

Another brief update from the directors of CTM as Easter nears once again. We wish you a joyful Easter and God's gift of peace through the risen Jesus Christ and in the power of the Holy Spirit.

Four items of news right now...

Entry Point: Towards Child Theology with Matthew 18

- (i) This book by Haddon Willmer and Keith White is currently being translated into Spanish. We are glad that it will be accessible to many more readers. It will be ready for the Quito Conference (see below.)
- (ii) From 20 March, 2015, the English version of Entry Point will be also be available in all electronic formats including iBook and Kindle. The ISBN (different from the printed book) is: 9780956475749, and it can be sourced from that ISBN. Until now Entry Point has not been easy to get in many parts of the world, so this is a happy development. We hope more readers will produce more discussion and more reviews.
- (iii) Latin American Conference on Child Theology: Semisud, Quito 17th 21st August 2015 This is the first conference in Latin America concentrating on Child Theology. The consultation will have about thirty participants, to facilitate good discussion and solid theological work together. A draft programme is nearing finalisation and invitations will shortly be sent out (the conference is by invitation only).
- (iv) CTM Website A re-design and update of the website's capabilities is underway: watch this space!
